VON HOLTS BLOCK KNUDSENS LAND PURCHASE

Von Holts May Stop Sale Of Mana Sisal Lands To Knudsens

A hitch has occurred on the intended sale of the Mana sisal lands, for which the Knudsens are the applicants, which may postpone, and possibly put a complete stop to the auction scheduled to take place next Monday.

This land is the long strip of so-called "sand-lots" along the coast of Mana, Kauai. The Knudsens have been the lessees of the land from the Government, but, desiring to acquire the ownership, signified their willingness to surrender their lease, so that the strip might be put up by the Land Commissioner for sale at public auction. The sale is advertised to take place next Monday, but very probably will not.

H. M. von Holt, trustee for Mrs. Annie Knudsen, and Ida E. von Holt, beneficiary of a trust deed executed by Mrs. Knudsen, are the ones who may block the deal. Both of them have written to Land Commissioner Pratt, stating that unless some arrangements are made by which their claim is released, Pratt will have no right to sell the land.

The matter has been passed up to the Governor and the Attorney General, the latter to delve into the law problems presented. Hemenway, however, is busy with the Lahaina case before the Supreme Court, and it is doubtful if he will find time before Monday to give an opinion in the matter. If he does not, the sale will have to be postponed.

The land in question has been divided for the purpose of sale into four lots, ranging from 510 to 520 acres each, with upset prices of from $1020 to $1940 each. It is provided that the purchaser must by the end of the first year have planted not less than 75,000 sisal plants, over 75 acres of land, and by the end of the fifth year not less than 375,000 plants over 375 acres. So far as is known, there will be no other bidders for the lots than the Knudsen brothers.

MRS. DAVISON'S SIDE

Kapahulu, Feb. 21, 1908.
Editor Evening Bulletin:—Will you kindly permit me space in your paper? I deny the article written in last evening's Bulletin concerning my husband, Henry F. Davison, and myself, in which you stated that I was left starving and that I went to a family to do washing for my support.

My husband and I are both well and he left the house, but did not leave me altogether penniless, as you stated in your paper. A family whom my husband befriended in many ways, in their days of serious trouble, invited me to come and visit them, and during my stay in their home I helped to provide for their table. I am living in my husband's home and being supported by him.

Your informer is a prevaricator. Thanking you for your space, believe me

Respectfully yours,
MRS. H. F. DAVISON.

In regard to the above statement by Mrs. Davison, it may be said that Marshal Hendry is authority for the assertion that when he arrested Harry Davison, he found that the man had sold out every stick of furniture in the house, left his wife and children penniless, and was all ready to leave Honolulu on the S. S. Korea, which was scheduled to sail the same day. Davison told Hendry when he was arrested, "If you had given me 20 minutes more, I should have been on board the Korea."

POLICE OF WAILUA NEED TARGET PRACTICE

The police of Wailua shot ten times at Lopez, the outlaw, yesterday, and couldn't hit him. They chased him for some distance, according to reports, but didn't get him.

It has been known for some time that Lopez was hiding in the vicinity of Wailua, and High Sheriff Hendry has been expecting to hear of his capture at any moment, but the man seems to have made another safe get-away.

The Longshoremen's Protective Association will give a loan on February 29 in the Brewer's wharf shed, that building having been turned over to them by the Superintendent of Public Works for the occasion.

JUDGE KINGSBURY COLLIDES WITH CAR

Automobile Runs Into a Rapid Transit Car But Little Damage Results

Judge Seiden B. Kingsbury this forenoon had an exceedingly narrow escape from a dangerous accident while he was driving his automobile. As it was he ran into a Rapid Transit car, but in some miraculous manner he escaped absolutely uninjured, and his machine was not much damaged either.

Kingsbury was coming down Victoria street and had arrived at the corner of that thoroughfare and Beretania street, when the outward-bound car came along. "I must have been dreaming," said the Judge this noon, "for I did neither see nor hear the car. I did not have time or space to avoid the car, though I tried to do so, and my machine ran right into it. The car was not damaged in the slightest, and proceeded on its way, and my machine only got the fender bent, and I was able to proceed down town in it without even stopping it."

CHARMING WINDOW DISPLAY

One of the most appropriate windows for just at this time can be seen on Fort street in the store of Ehlers. The combination of celebrating Washington's Birthday and the Floral Parade together is very artistically designed. It would certainly pay everyone with an eye for a prettily decorated window to take a glance. The idea is unique, and very catchy and certainly shows quite a head for window display.

MOOKINI-PIHI

The marriage of Sam Mookini of Lahaina and Miss Louise Pihl, a teacher at Rohukaina school of this city, will take place at Lahaina, Maui, on April 4th.

The affair will be a quiet one. Miss Lucy Kaula, one of the teachers of Lahaina Government school, will be the bridesmaid and Mr. Wilson of Lahaina Seminary, the best man.

THE EDITOR CASE

The hearing in the Lo San case before U. S. Commissioner Frank Hatch was continued yesterday afternoon until next Monday. At that time it is probable that some evidence will be taken and the case again put over for a week or so.

David Lelele wishes to state that he is not the Lelele who was referred to as having challenged one Paulo to a fight at the Acherley meeting. He says that the Lelele in this matter was a half-brother and not a brother of Mrs. Acherley.

Assessor Probably Selected

A Tax Assessor has been selected but the formal appointment has not yet been made.

This statement must be made without authority, but it is evident, nevertheless, that it is correct. Treasurer Campbell emerged at 2:30 this afternoon from a conference with the Governor. He was asked if a man had yet been selected to succeed Holt. "Well," he replied evasively, "no one has been appointed yet,"—emphasizing the word "appointed."

Governor Frear in reply to a similar question said that the matter was not yet quite ripe. It is probable, however, that the plum will be ripe enough before night to be shaken down.

When Low's chances of receiving the appointment appear to be so small as to be practically negligible. He was met on the street just after the Governor and the Treasurer had made their statements and he said that he knew nothing about the matter, had not even been asked for "I do not think," he said, "that there is much chance of my being appointed. I think that Wilder is probably the man."

Mana Sale Postponed

Land Commissioner Pratt announced this afternoon that the sale of the Mana lands on Kauai had been postponed pending an investigation of the protest lodged by the von Holts against the sale.

MARRIED LIFE PALLS ON WIFE

Mrs. McAuliffe Tired of Being Beaten by Her Husband, Wants Divorce

Nearly all the statutory grounds for divorce are alleged by Agnes Gertrude McAuliffe in her libel against James McAuliffe, with whom she finds life unbearable.

Since they were married in 1901 she says there has hardly been a day when he has not slapped or beaten her, applied vile epithets to her, or accused her to her face and to others of unchastity and unfaithfulness.

On June 11, 1906, the woman says, her husband struck her on the breast, inflicting injuries which it took months of a doctor's care to cure. On August 17, 1907, he cruelly assaulted and beat her, dragged her out of bed, and tore her clothes from her body. She fled from the house in fear of her life and took refuge with strangers.

Like all women, though, she resisted, and, believing her husband's promises of reform, returned to live with him again. But things were no better, and on October 23 the man choked her and threatened to take her life, so she again fled and has lived apart from him ever since. Life with him has become unbearable, a source of continuous unhappiness and fear of bodily harm, to which the wife can no longer submit.

In addition to bad treatment Mrs. McAuliffe accuses her husband of habitual intemperance and nonsupport.

Judge Quarles, who has recently arrived from Idaho and opened a law office in Honolulu, was this morning admitted to practice in the Supreme Court, on motion of Judge Kingsbury.

The evidence in the Lahaina case, now before the Supreme Court, was all in at 11:35 this morning, and argument was begun, D. L. Withington taking the affirmative.

Principal C. A. Macdonald of Lahaina Seminary is in town, having arrived yesterday morning on the steamer Claudine.

It is kind that has ever been undertaken in Honolulu. Every member of every committee appointed by Mr. Gartley has been working conscientiously all the time, and the different sections of the parade have each a large representation. Nine o'clock tomorrow morning is the time set for the participants to form in their places in the Capitol grounds, leaving there after they have been photographed at 10 o'clock. Then the main streets will be paraded; ending up under the trees in the Punahou College grounds, where the decisions (Continued on Page 5)

MAY GIVE FREAR A HARD FIGHT

"If Governor Frear appoints Wilder as Tax Assessor, or has him appointed, thereby throwing down the Republican party, I am afraid he will have a hard fight on his hands when he seeks the appointment of delegate to the Republican National convention," said a member of the Central Committee this morning.

"Are you sure that he is a candidate for delegate?" asked the reporter. "He has not announced officially that he is, but he has made such a statement to friends," was the answer. "You remember that Carter, during his term as Governor, was a delegate to the last convention."

The member explained carefully that he knew of no scheme on the part of the Central Committee to knife the Governor, should he decline to heed its recommendations, and thereafter seek the position of delegate. He stated, however, that it was his idea that in case the Governor should do so, there would be many Republicans who would be inclined to think that after after he had thrown down the party he would not have the best of chances when seeking favors at its hands. Governor Frear was asked this noon if he intended to be a candidate for the delegateship, but he merely answered that he could not say at present.

KEHAL KUIA HAS FRANCHISE RESTORED

Governor Frear this morning restored to his civil rights Kahalekula, an old Hawaiian living up Manoa valley.

Kahalekula, who is about 86 years old, was convicted away back in 1873 of feloniously branding a cow, although Governor Frear says there is now considerable doubt that the cow was not his own. Again in 1884 he was convicted of distilling liquor without a license. For both these offenses he served short terms in prison. But he will now be able to vote at the next election.
